Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program - SNAP

What is the purpose of the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)?
The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) (formerly Food Stamps) helps low-income people and families buy the food they need for good health.
Benefits are provided on the Illinois Link Card - an electronic card that is accepted at most grocery stores. The program is managed by the Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) of the United States Department of Agriculture. The Department of Human Services administers the program in Illinois.

Who can receive these services?
Most households with low income can get SNAP benefits. The rules are complex, so all of the details are not here. The most important factors which determine the amount of, and eligibility for, SNAP benefits are:
- income and expenses;
- the number of persons who live and eat together
Use the SNAP Eligibility Calculator to give an estimate of possible benefits. This is only an estimate.
Your application must be reviewed by DHS staff at the Family Community Resource Center. If you apply for benefits and are eligible, you will receive a notice of your eligibility.

Income
A household might be eligible to receive SNAP benefits if their monthly gross income does not exceed the gross income limits shown below.
